No matter the experience you're looking for, our list of the best tours in Rome has got you covered. Note: All tours listed here are bookable through GetYourGuide - our no. 1 choice when it comes to booking guided tours and excursions. They have an excellent reputation, great customer service, competitive prices, and free 24-hour cancellation. You seriously can't go wrong by booking your tours with them. prochasson frederic / shutterstock.com Skip the Line: Colosseum and Ancient Rome Walking Tour Skip long lines and get instant entry into the Colosseum, Roman Forum, and Palatine Hill with this walking tour. Your walking tour will be led by an expert guide that is sure to bring Ancient Rome back to life and answer all your questions about Rome's history. Whether it's about the Colosseum, the famous amphitheater known for gladiator fights, Palatine Hill, where kings and emperors once resided, or the tomb of Julius Caesar himself, there's so much of Rome's rich historic culture on this tour that you'll be glad you didn't miss it. Check Price Now vvoe / shutterstock.com Skip the Line: Vatican, Sistine & St Peter's Small Group Tour Well-known for being one of the highlights in Rome, make your visit a memorable one as you take this small group tour to the Vatican Museums, Sistine Chapel, and St. Peter's Basilica. You'll experience the sites where more than 8 million lucky tourists visit every single year, but you'll be privileged to skip the lines. With a smaller group than most tours, you'll be able to enjoy the scenery at a simple pace as you observe the Hall of Maps, the Pinecone Courtyard or the Gallery of Candelabra. Bask in the famous Sistine Chapel along with Michelangelo's most famous paintings, as well as St. Peter's Basilica - all, of course, wait-free. Check Price Now muratart / shutterstock.com Ancient Rome Segway Tour On this fun-filled and exciting Segway tour, see Rome like you've never seen it before. You'll coast by the Colosseum, where you can almost hear the shouts of ancient gladiators, and the Roman Forum, the plaza that was the social, political and economic hub of Ancient Rome. Though now in ruins, the wonder of this square's beauty never fails to impress. The guide will entertain you with tales of Romulus and Remus as you move on to the Circus Maximus and discover various hidden tidbits along the way. It's a laid-back, marvelous tour that's a great choice for any visitor who wants to see Rome from a different angle. Check Price Now wjarek / shutterstock.com Skip the Line: Borghese Gallery and Gardens Half-Day Tour Take a tour that allows you to venture into Rome's Borghese Gallery and experience more of the gallery and gardens that most will ever get to see. Art lovers will be delighted to behold the works of famed artists like Canova, Titian, Bernini and Caravaggio, whose paintings and sculptures are revered by thousands every day. This 3-hour tour lets you become a part of history, allowing you to skip long lines and wait to view the gorgeous rooms of the Borghese Villa. Hear the stories and techniques behind some of the most thrilling paintings, take a lovely walk through the gardens and behold the bustle of the surrounding city from the Pincio Terrace for a picturesque end to your tour. Check Price Now fischers / shutterstock.com Discover Rome: 3-Hour Bike Tour If you're visiting Rome during the summertime, it would be remiss of you to miss out on this bike tour. Traverse Rome's centre, venturing into the hidden gems of the city. Pretty cobblestone alleys, roadside markets and charming gardens are all a part of Rome's splendor. With a small group of no more than 10 people and a knowledgeable tour guide, you'll be treated to a serene and enjoyable tour. Check Price Now Boris Stroujko / shutterstock.com Pompeii Full-Day Trip from Rome On this full-day tour from Rome, you'll experience the UNESCO World Heritage Site of Pompeii, and between March and mid-November you can even climb the mountain of Vesuvius that destroyed it. When you climb all the way to the top, you'll look on with wonder at the slopes scarred by years of lava flow and be rewarded with panoramic views of the Amalfi Coast and the Bay of Naples. First erupting around 79 AD, this dormant volcano is now a wondrous sight that will astound you when you look into its crater from above. If, however, you're taking this tour between November and March, instead of climbing the volcano you'll visit the Archaeological Museum of Pompeii for a look at some of Pompeii's ancient artifacts. When you're finished, stop off at one of Naples' pizzerias for lunch for a filling end to your tour. Check Price Now Pen 85 / shutterstock.com Day Tour of Villa D'Este & Hadrian's Villa Tivoli Travel to Tivoli to view two of Italy's most famous villas, the Villa D'Este and Hadrian's Villa. At the Villa D'Este, you can wander the sprawling estates, taking in your guide's information about the rich history of the property and its status as one of the pinnacles of the Italian Renaissance. Take photos of the looming trees and spectacular waterfalls, then head over to Hadrian's Villa to marvel at this 2nd-century beauty. With multiple temples, outdoor baths, pools and palaces, you'll certainly feel like royalty with a tour that gives you a seat in the lap of luxury. Check Price Now 3.5-Hour Food Tour with a Local Guide What's a trip through Rome without a taste of the city's culinary masterpieces? On this tour you'll sample tasty goodies from Rome's best shops, markets and restaurants with a guide that knows the very best spots to frequent. Choose succulent fruits and veggies in the morning at Campo de' Fiori or gelato at Trastevere, then try any one of Rome's restaurants for some authentic Italian pizza. Taste, chat and learn about one of the most major parts of Italian culture to become more in touch with this famous city. Check Price Now filippo giuliani / shutterstock.com Catacombs and the Appian Way Day Trip from Rome Take a tour along the Appian Way, the 2,000-year-old road that leads you into the wonders of the Italian countryside. Away from all of the hustle and bustle of the modern towns, feast your eyes on the lush green vegetation dotted with statues, ruins, and a sepulchre. Visit beautiful Caffarella Park, the place that resonated so deeply with Goethe, Stendhal and Byron, and listen as your tour guide tells you all that you desire to learn about the place. If you're a lover of nature, of the rustic charm of the countryside, this is the tour for you. First, take an invigorating descent below the city of Rome to visit the historic catacombs. Grave reminders of an era where Christians were persecuted in Ancient Rome, hundreds of tombs lie within the corridors of the catacombs, both simple and extravagant. Next, see the San Clemente Basilica, which takes you down through various layers to finally plant you on a preserved street dating back to the first century. Prepare yourself for the sight of the Capuchin Crypt, where you can gaze upon Caravaggio's 'St. Francis in Meditation'. See parts of the life of the saint and his followers with the help of your friendly, attentive guide. Check Price Now The best tours in Rome are guaranteed to provide you with excellent information from an amazing guide, so you can be sure you won't miss a thing in this historic city :) The Domus Romane are ancient Roman villas and other structures, abandoned in antiquity, filled in with debris, and inadvertently used as foundations for Palazzo Valentini, a Renaissance palace turned government office building. They are now underground, obscured by buildings and pavement just beside Piazza Venezia. On this tour, in situ multimedia renderings recreate an Imperial Rome domus, as well as some aspects of Roman life. The guides are actual archaeologists, and the fact-checked audio is delivered cleanly. These language-specific multimedia tours are popular though, and must be booked in advance. Think of Tavole Romane, the food-and-wine-focused walking tour of Rome, as getting access to the little black book of those who know the city's food scene best. Owners Gabriele and Silvia customize the tours based on the interests of each intimate group, which could mean wine bars in Trastevere or an aperitivo-heavy hop through the centro storico, led by somms, chefs, or another tapped in member of Rome's food scene. This market tour and cooking class began with a wonderful walk through the market to Latteria Studios, a functional cooking studio and photo set. Alice, Rachel, and Carla, who head up the activities, are real professionals, they know everyone at the market, and they know all about food. Sitting at the table at the end of day fosters a real sense of community with what may have been a group of strangers from different countries and continents. You'll immerse yourself in Rome and make new friends at the same time. This is your chance to see the studio that was once home to Fellini and Leone. It's still a working studio though, so you'll need to follow the guide's itinerary to the letter. She will know about Cinecittà though: its history, and its film productions, and its famous alumni. Also, Cinecittà owns every set that was built on the lot. Master artisans created them all—ancient Rome, a 1940s submarine, and fantastical, imagined worlds. They perfectly accurate to their settings, as well as pristinely preserved. The reason we have the best Rome tours is simple: we work with the best guides in the city and get those guides the best access so they can give a great tour. Specializing in Colosseum tours and Vatican tours, we make it our mission to select only the most educated and charismatic guides in Rome who are passionate about what they do. Our product team is able to source access to restricted areas, skip-the-line entry, and provide superior customer service all to make your trip to Rome trip memorable.
